

We are proud to announce that Open Medicine began an Official Partner Journal of The Society for Asia Medical Decision Science (SAMDS), which is a cross-disciplinary regional platform established in Taipei, Taiwan, focused on medical decision-making science, health information research, and equitable health care options.

Open Medicine as an official strategic academic partner organization supports conferences organized by SAMDS:

International Conference on Medical and Health Informatics
International Symposium on Medical Decision Science
International Conference on Humanities, Social Sciences and Management
